G. O. P. PLANKS RIDDLED IN KEYNOTE SPEECH WETS WIN OUT IN FIRST SKIRMISH

DRYS FORCED TO SHOW HAND

Vote Taken on Question by Resolutions Committee

BRYAN GETS HEAVY JOLT Nebraskan Decisively Beaten in Setting Up Machinery

SAN FRANCISCO.—(By United Press.)—Wets won the first skirmish Tuesday before the resolutions committee of the Democratic national convention. By a vote of 27 to 25, a motion was adopted which forced the drys to present their side of the question first.

MADDOO FORCES ORGANIZE

AUDITORIUM, SAN FRANCISCO.—(By Associated Press.)—By assembling an hour later than usual Tuesday, the Democratic national convention had before it only a routine session, a necessary time killer, to give opportunity for committee work on the outside and the final perfection of its organization machinery.

A second keynote speech by Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, the successful administration candidate for permanent chairman, was the principal event on the program. Prospects for a spectacular fight on the floor over the election of the credentials committee which sustained the Democratic national committee in its refusal to seat Senator Reed of Missouri, as a delegate, were hedged about with uncertainty. The McAdoo people came to the convention floor for the first time with a working organization, including a floor leader and a representative in practically every state delegation. Their problem was to find enough supporters to round up a two-thirds vote. Cox and Palmer forces were active rounding up a showing for the opening ballot.

BRYAN DEFEATED

Administration forces went into the second day of the convention apparently in full control of the situation. Senator Glass of Virginia, as chairman of the resolutions committee, excluded from the floor the credentials committee, while the Colby secretary of state, sits as the representative of President Wilson; Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, another staunch administration supporter, chosen for permanent chairman of the convention, and administration men at the head of other committees was the lineup of other committees was the lineup brought out, which had proved to be a contest. The threatened anti-administration fight, so far as it is related to the organization of the convention machinery, collapsed without a showing.

At the same time the committee formulating the rules for the convention has cleared the way for the nominating speeches to be delivered while the resolutions committee is working on the platform. By unanimous action it decided that the various candidates may be placed in nomination with the platform deliberations are going on, but no balloting for a nominee may be conducted until after the platform has been brought in and perfected and adopted. This action will simplify and hasten the work of the convention very much.

WILSON DEMONSTRATION

From the dramatic moment Monday when portrait of President Wilson was unveiled in the great convention auditorium to let loose a storm of tribute and approbation from party fellows on the floor, there seemed little chance for those who had set themselves in opposition.

The demonstration for the president had fairly lifted the convention to its feet and set it marching through the aisles roaring and shouting. It was born in part of a solemn patriotic fervor that had preceded it and which had sent the ringing tones of the Star Spangled Banner soaring into the caverns of the massive building with a force and volume that spoke of hearts thrilling with high feeling.

This setting was almost beyond description. The majestic proportions of the building, the peal of the great pipe organ flooding the space with music, the clash and stir of the military band, the vivid wall of color where a great flag swept from ceiling to floor before the delegates, the notes struck by the marine color guard on the platform and through it all the keen, windlike quality of the cool salt breeze that swept in from the wide reaches of the Pacific, all these things were busy even before the flag swung up in grand folds to disclose the president's likeness and throw the convention into a frenzy of cheering.

WILSON GRIPS MAJORITY

The burst of feeling did not die with adjustment. Long after there was still a hint of it in the voices of the delegates.

The same subliming undercurrents ran through the deliberations of the committees. It was there with the collapse of the move to prevent the election of Senator Glass, a movement that had the backing of W. J. Bryan.

Senator Robinson's selection for permanent chairman was more of a foregone conclusion. No opposing candidate had been selected. The administration forces now have a strong grip on the machinery which will write the confession of faith for the party's 1920 campaign. There will be battles in committee over many planks, but there was less prospect today than at any time since the convention leaders began to assemble, in the opinion of most political observers schooled in the ways of conventions, of an open fight on the floor. Administration leaders appeared confident that differences could be ironed out in committee.

BRYAN'S LEAGUE IDEAS

Mr. Bryan has put forward the league of nations plank on which he would have the convention stand. It declares for such reservations as are necessary to secure ratification and is in sharp conflict with the position taken before the convention yesterday by National Chairman Homer S. Cummings in his keynote speech. Mr. Cummings lashed at the attitude of Republican senators in the treaty fight charging that they sought nullification, not reservation. He declared that no reservation not aimed at the life of the covenant would have been rejected by the administration and administration forces in the convention are expected to cling to that line.

Whether Mr. Bryan, like a good trader, had asked more than he expected to get and is willing to take less is not clear. The administration leaders stimulated by the victories of yesterday, reiterated their confidence that no minority report on the treaty plank could carry. Other planks may cause committee discord, but there was a word of cheer for Irish sympathizers in Mr. Cummings' speech. The only issue he did not deal with directly in his keynote address was that over a party statement on prohibition enforcement.

NOMINATION BOOMS

In that issue may be wrapped up the fate of some aspirants for the presidential nomination. The battle has come to the surface in a caucus of the New York delegation, which voted without roll call to urge modification of the enforcement law. The session left behind it echoes of "gag rule" and charges and assertions that if a floor battle were insisted upon by the New Yorkers, the party's chances at the polls would be ruined.

Events so far have shown no marked reaction overnight on discussions of nomination booms. There seems to be a general feeling that prospect of Mr. McAdoo's selection had increased, but there was no definite development upon which it could be based by those who took this view.

OHIOAN WOUNDS TRAIN ROBBER

Bandit Falls From Car After Shot Three Times

SACRAMENTO, Cal. (By Associated Press.)—Police are searching along the Southern Pacific tracks, near Davis, a few miles from here, for the train robber who held up passengers on the Atlantic express late Monday night. The bandit fell from the train when Al Robell of Cleveland, Ohio, fired three shots into his breast.

About $200 in cash and a quantity of jewelry had been taken by the bandit from the passengers in the last two cars on the train. He climbed aboard from the observation platform and compelled a brakeman to accompany him and arouse the passengers in their berths.

As he attempted to enter a third coach he discovered Conductor Muldowney, locking the door and fired twice without hitting him. Robell followed the bandit back to the forward platform of the observation car and shot him three times.

BUFFALO, N. Y. — Four persons were killed and an undetermined number injured by the collapse of the walls of the Sutherland hotel, a lower Main street lodging house. Eighty men occupied rooms in the building last night and the day clerk had no information as to the number of persons in the building when he crash came. The bodies of the four men taken from the ruins were unidentified.

"SPEED-UP" RULE IS ADOPTED

Nominating Speeches Will Be Made Wednesday Afternoon

THEN RESOLUTIONS REPORT

Proposal Made to Limit Debate on the Platform

CONGRESS RULES ADOPTED

SAN FRANCISCO.—(By United Press.)—The Democratic convention met Tuesday to adopt a "speed-up" program agreed to during the night by the rules committee. Under the program, nominating speeches will begin at 1 p. m. Wednesday, but actual balloting will not start until the platform has been adopted. The question of whether the nomination should be made before the platform is adopted, caused a hot debate in the rules committee. Finally, the rules of the sixty-fifth congress were adopted with a proviso that the order of business should be as follows beginning Tuesday.

- 1.—Report of credentials committee.
- 2.—Report of committee on permanent organization.
- 3.—Report of rules committee.
- 4.—Nominating speeches for presidential candidates (to start at 1 p. m. Wednesday).
- 5.—Report of platform committee and adoption of same.
- 6.—Balloting on nomination for presidential candidates.
- 7.—Nominating speeches for vice-presidential candidates.
- 8.—Balloting on nomination for vice-president.
- 9.—Routine resolutions and final adjournment.

TALK OF "GAG RULE"

An effort to go ahead and nominate the candidate at once without waiting for the platform, was defeated 25 to 15. Several delegates said they were afraid under such procedure, the candidate would attempt to dictate the platform.

There had been some talk of "gag rule" that would limit debate from the floor so that William J. Bryan and other speakers would have to cut short their remarks.

The New Yorkers were at the committee meeting, ready to start a drive against the gag rule as it applies to their state. They were former Mayor Lunn, of Schenectady, assistant secretary of the Navy Roosevelt, and Justice Seabury. Their contention is that the gag rule should not apply to New York's delegation, because the delegates were elected from congressional districts and are uninstructed. A number of individual delegates want to vote for McAdoo and the claim is that under the gag rule, they will be unable to do so as the state's whole ballot will go the way of the majority of the delegation desires. Lunn, Roosevelt and Seabury were ready to proceed with arguments immediately, but John Fitzgerald, former congressman, New York's member of the committee, objected on the ground both sides were not represented. The arguments started at 9:45 Tuesday.

COX STAMPEDES CONVENTION

Joe Hartline Sweeps Lima Kiwanis Club for Ohioan

Governor James M. Cox was placed in nomination Tuesday by Joe Hartline and stamped the convention. It wasn't the convention at San Francisco, but a mock convention held by the Kiwanis club.

After the keynote speech was eloquently delivered by Walter Jackson, all the candidates were placed in nomination as follows: Champ Clark by Fred Williams on a smoking plank; Walter Hale of Illinois, by Al Caldwell on an anti-foreign plank; William G. McAdoo of New York on a railroad plank. Woodrow Wilson by Clayton Payne on a League of Nations plank; William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska on a free speech plank; Governor Edwards of New Jersey, by Bernard Blum on a wet plank. A soldiers bonus plank was also a part of the platform.

HARVEST IS HINDERED

NEXIA, O. — The shortage of coal threatens to seriously interfere with the work of threshing the wheat and oats crop of this section of the state according to L. C. Tingley, secretary of the local chamber of commerce. He has started a movement to bring pressure to bear upon the interstate commerce commission in an effort to have more cars supplied so that coal can be transported for harvesting work.

CUMMINGS' TALK HITS HARDING

G. O. P. Candidate to Reply to Democratic Broadside

WASHINGTON.—(By United Press.)—Senator Warren G. Harding intends to reply to the keynote speech of Homer S. Cummings to the Democratic convention in his acceptance speech next month. Harding read the Democratic broadside Tuesday, but declined to make any comment.

The Republican presidential nomination was back on the job Tuesday. Fresh and sunburned from his brief vacation in New Jersey, he leaves for Marion probably Saturday. Mrs. Harding also appeared to have enjoyed the rest.

Waiting for his train in the New Jersey village Monday night, Senator Harding mingled with laborers on their way home from work. His identity was unknown.

WILSON IS "HIGHLY PLEASED"

Convention Action Proves "Tonic" For the President

WASHINGTON.—(By United Press.)—President Wilson Tuesday was described as "highly pleased" over the results of the first day of the Democratic national convention. One official at the White House said the president had had since his illness.

The story of the convention was received over the United Press leased wire running into the White House and carried to the president. Copies were made for other officials also and throughout the day a little group sat in the executive offices, reading the United Press dispatches.

Probably the most pleasing feature to the White House was the effect of the keynote speech of Homer S. Cummings. But what officials regarded of more practical significance, was the apparent willingness of the convention to endorse the president and his administration. It was said in this sentiment at the convention continues to prevail, it is probable Wilson will have nothing more to say for publication until the convention has finally adjourned.

It was declared Wilson had had no long distance telephone conversation with San Francisco since the convention opened.

"SHOOT TO KILL" ORDER GIVEN IN CLEVELAND WAR ON CRIMINALS

CLEVELAND.—In order to "shoot to kill" was issued by Police Chief Smith in the hunt Tuesday for the two men who shot down Patrolman Henry Schroeder here Monday night. Schroeder was in plain clothes and the men tried to hold him up. A bullet thru the jaw rendered him dead. Schroeder said he believed he shot one of the men. Smith, aroused by this latest incident in the crime wave of the past few days, told his men to "shoot to kill" in their efforts to wipe out the criminal class.

WELD FOR FORGERY

CANION, Ohio.—Herbert S. Harrison, former president of the Reliable Lumber Company here, was arrested Monday night at Wilkinsburg, Pa., on a warrant charging forgery to the sum of $3,000. He was indicted by the last grand jury, but the indictment was kept secret pending his arrest.

DAMP PLANK MAY BE OMITTED

Sub-Committee to Ignore Liquor is Forecast

ARGUMENTS BEING MADE

Real Contest May Come Before Full Convention

SAN FRANCISCO.—(By Associated Press.)—Actual preparation of the Democratic platform, delegated Monday night to a sub-committee of nine under administration leadership, waited Tuesday while the platform committee of 53 kept open house to hear final suggestions and arguments from many sources.

Labor, liquor and the Irish question, all subjects of disagreement among party leaders, were up for debate at the committee's public hearings. Besides there were many speakers on issues of lesser controversy, and there seemed little prospect that the long list could be finished until late in the day.

BRYAN TO WAIT

Meantime, as observers studied the makeup of the sub-committee, it became more apparent that the real contest over the platform would come after the sub-committee report had been laid before the full committee for review. William J. Bryan, omitted by the administration leaders from membership on the sub-committee, said he probably would not present his planks on prohibition, the league of nations and other subjects for sub-committee consideration at all.

Selected by Senator Glass of Virginia after he had been unanimously chosen chairman of the platform committee, the sub-committee was expected to show a majority of administration supporters and a majority against inclusion of any wet plank in the platform. Senator Glass, understood to be President Wilson's own choice to head the committee, made his selections after a long conference with Secretary of state department, a member of the committee from the District of Columbia and the administration manager on the floor of the convention.

Secretary Coffey was one of those given membership on the sub-committee. Besides Mr. Bryan, Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, who advocates a treaty plank out of accord with administration views; W. Bourke Cockran of New York, a leader in the fight for Irish recognition and James R. Nugent, New Jersey, who wants a wet plank, were left off the list of nine.

In the public session Tuesday a delegation headed by Frank P. Walsh were granted a hearing on the Irish recognition proposal and representatives of the Anti-Saloon league were among those to appear on the prohibition issue. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor was granted a hearing on the requests of organized labor.

OPERATORS DENY PROFITEERING

Protest Admission of Charges Made by Mine Workers

SALANTON.—(By Associated Press.)—Arguments on the admission in evidence of charges of profiteering and monopolistic control made against the hard coal operators were heard Tuesday by the anthracite mine commission named by President Wilson to adjust differences between the operators and the mine workers. The charges are contained in a brief submitted yesterday by W. J. Louch, consulting economist of the United Mine Workers of America, only a part of which, however, was read into the records. Objection was made by representatives of the operators to the presentation of evidence tending to show profiteering and this part of the brief was not read, the commission announced. It would pass upon the operators' objection today.

S. D. Warner, president of the I. M. W. A. and Navigation Company, representing the operators, declared profits of producing and transporting coal and the charges of monopolistic control were not pertinent to the inquiry. Representatives of the miners on the other hand argued those points of the brief would tend to enlighten the commission on the abilities of the operators to pay the increased, demanded and that it was information the public should have.

Policies Adopted at Chicago Picked to Pieces In Scathing Denunciation by Newly Elected Permanent Chairman of the Democratic Convention

"Amazing Jumble of Ambiguities, Straddles and Slanders," Declares the Speaker In His Speech of Acceptance of Post at Golden Gate

SAN FRANCISCO.—In his speech Tuesday afternoon, accepting the permanent chairmanship of the Democratic national convention, Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, vigorously assailing the Republican platform, declared that:

"It is an amazing jumble of ambiguities, inconsistencies, evasions, misrepresentations, straddles and slanders. "The Republican convention should have displayed the courage to clearly declare its policy, but it was frank on only one subject; namely in singing a hymn of hate for the president. "The platform is deliberately unfair in charging upon the Democratic administration all responsibility for military unpreparedness."

Devoting his attention first to the charge of military unpreparedness, Senator Robinson, said:

CENSURE OF DEMOCRATS FALLS BACK ON THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

"Every one knows that the Republican party controlled the government for a long period prior to the inauguration of President Wilson, excepting a short time when the Democrats were in the majority in one branch of congress.

"If criticism of the pre-war policy as to military preparedness is justified, the censure must fall upon the Republican party. That party cannot escape the consequences of its course or win favor by falsifying the well known facts of history."

With regard to the Republican claim of a policy of economy, the senator claimed "the absurdity of this boast is disclosed by the fact that $1,000,000,000 in excess of the amount appropriated by the Democratic congress in 1916, has been authorized for the coming fiscal year. "Besides," he added, "many necessary sums have been withheld to make a showing of economy."

CHICAGO TARIFF PLANK HELD AS AN AMUSING PLEASANTRY

The Republican plank, respecting taxes, he characterized as "manifestly insincere, and regarding the tariff, he observed:

"The platform embraces no more amusing pleasantry than the admission that there is neither necessity nor justification for revision of the tariff. For fear, however, that the plutocratic beneficiaries of protection may become indifferent to Republican success and forget to make campaign contributions, the platform reaffirms adherence to the principle of tariff protection."

"A big joker" was his characterization of the plank concerning profiteering. The Republican congress enacted no profiteering laws," he said. "The amendments to the food control act were suggested by the president and supported by the Democrats in congress. The president recommended four additional measures to prevent and penalize profiteering. All of these were pigeonholed. Nothing was proposed by the Republicans in place of them."

G. O. P. USE OF MONEY

"It is not conceivable," he continued, "that the committee on resolutions will follow the example of the Republican committee at Chicago and bring in a report which on its face is dishonest and unfair. But if it should do so, if it equivocates as to main issues, the convention ought to reject the report and demand that the committee deal with every issue it chooses in advance."

Senator Robinson severely arraigned the Republicans because of the use of money in the recent pre-convention campaign. "To avert a national scandal," he said, "the Republicans at Chicago rejected both General Wood and General Lowden, whose supporters had made such reckless use of money in the primaries and conventions as to make either of them susceptible to attack if nominated. In spite of the general indignation aroused by the expenditure of more than $1,500,000 in behalf of General Wood and almost $1,000,000 in behalf of Governor Lowden, no mention of the subject is found in the Chicago platform."

In referring to Senator Penrose's attack on the navy and Admiral Spence's repetition of the attack, Senator Robinson charged that these were made for political purposes.

"In spite of partisanship repeatedly displayed by Republican members of the investigating committee," he said, "the honor of the navy has been preserved."

Answering the Republican condemnation of the Armenian mandate proposition, the senator pointed out that "had never been contemplated that the United States should assume the responsibility without first probing the terms and conditions of the mandate and adding the Armenians want our help; the Mexicans do not trust us. The Republican party would do any encouragement or assistance to Armenia and would force a protectorate on Mexico. They are deaf to the appeal of the oppressed, but as always, they are sensitive to the call of wealth."

Senator Robinson, discussing the League of Nations, after charging Senator Lodge with pursuing an inconsistent course, defended the Democratic senators who were unwilling to accept reservations that would "cut the heart out of the covenant," and declared that "article ten does not impair the sovereignty of the United States."

PALMER MEN WIN

Georgia Contest Decided—Reed's Defeat Holds

SAN FRANCISCO.—(By Associated Press.)—The credentials committee of the Democratic national convention Tuesday ratified the action of the national committee in seating the Palmer delegates from Georgia and in denying Senator James A. Reed a seat in the convention as a delegate from the fifth Missouri district. The Palmer men fr at Georgia were seated by a vote of 41 to 1, and Senator Reed's claim to a seat was denied by a vote of 37 to 8. The action of the credentials committee is another victory for the administration forces, as the defeated Georgia group is said to contain elements that were at variance with the Wilson administration, while Senator Reed is a bitter critic of the league of nations as advocated by the president and is an opponent of administration measures.

BANK BIG LOSER ON OVERDRAFTS

Depositors of Wren Concern Do Not Suffer However

An alleged $55,000 swindle in which the Bank of Wren in Van Wert-co is the victim has been uncovered by a bank examiner, it was announced Tuesday. An indemnity bond for $100,000 has been given by H. G. Schumm, H. P. Schinnerer, M. A. Ripley and Jefferson Moore, residents of Willshire-tp, to cover losses to the bank, it has been learned from officials of the institution.

The alleged overdrafts were cashed by a man giving his name as W. T. Davis, and representing himself as a stock salesman for the LaSalle Phonograph company of Chicago, who obtained payment on overdrafts aggregating $55,000. Davis disappeared shortly after the checks had been cashed. It is understood that the overdrafts were cashed by the bank in normal condition.

The four men who gave an indemnity bond to cover losses are stockholders in the company.

W. G. People was cashier of the bank.

Davis is said to have been in Van Wert-co before as a stock salesman for a chain of drug stores.

The money which the Wren bank paid on the worthless checks was made good by individual stockholders of the institution.

Grip and Neurasthenia

There is a form of neurasthenia that follows the grip. Doctor's call it "post-grip" neurasthenia. One of the foremost medical authorities of New York city in a lecture in the international clinics, said:

"Broadly speaking, every victim of the grip will suffer from post-grip neurasthenia. Lowering of nervous tone with increased irritability is the most striking effect of the disease, lowering of mind and body, disturbed sleep and vague aching in the limbs and elsewhere. The treatment calls for rest and a tonic."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a non-alcoholic tonic, are particularly suited for building up the blood and strengthening the nerves after an attack of the grip. The rich red blood expels the lingering germs from the system and transforms depleted vitality into cheerful, healthy, happy and vigorous.

If you have had the grip get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills now from the nearest drug store or they will be sent, postpaid, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, 60 cents per box.

Cured His Rheumatism!

"I am eighty-three years old and I doctored for rheumatism ever since I came out of the army, over 30 years ago. Like many other, I spent money freely for so-called 'cures' and I have read about 'Uric Acid' until I could almost taste it. I could not sleep nights or walk without pain. My hands were so sore and stiff, I could not hold a pen. But now I am again in active business and can walk with ease and write all day with comfort. Friends are surprised at the change. You might just as well attempt to put out a fire with oil as try to get rid of your rheumatism, neuritis and like complaints by taking treatment supposed to drive the acid out of your blood and body. It took Mr. Ashelman fifty years to find out the truth. He learned how to get rid of the true cause of his rheumatism, other disorders, and recover his strength from 'The Inner Mystery' now being distributed free by an authority who devoted over twenty years to the scientific study of this trouble. If any reader of 'The Gentleman' wishes 'The Inner Mystery of Rheumatism' overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past, simply send a post card or letter to: H. P. Clearwater, No. 77 A Street, Hallowell, Maine. Send no money. If not a sufferer, cut out this notice and hand this good news and opportunity to a suffering friend. All who send will receive it by return mail without any charge whatever.

VAN WERT — The light and power situation in Van Wert and twenty surrounding towns which depend on the Northwestern Light Company or Delphos for their illumination, is still precarious. The car of coal rushed to that city from Van Wert will keep the plant running until Tuesday evening at the latest and some of the 14 cars of coal which the company has enroute to the plant, do not reach it there will be a general suspension of business.

PROCLAMATION OF CELEBRATION

Mayor Allows Use of Fireworks on Rules of Last Year

Mayor F. A. Burkhardt today issued a proclamation on the Fourth of July celebration in which he allows the use of fireworks in the city such as was allowed last year. The proclamation follows:

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION
Whereas the date of July Fourth has been by honored custom set apart as the "birthday of our nation," therefore a day for grand and glorious outbursts of patriotic fervor, and whereas, the mentioned date falls on Sunday, I, Frank A. Burkhardt, Mayor of the City of Lima, do declare Monday, July Fifth, 1929, as the legal and proper date for the celebration of Independence Day. Raise the flag, liberty is life. Let the patriot fires of our fathers burn anew. Let youth and age attune their spirit of loyalty by reading the Declaration of Independence.

I further declare that the use of dangerous explosives and instruments shall be prohibited, such as use of revolvers, blank cartridges, pistols, howitzers, and the use of any other kind of fireworks the same as allowed last year. The same shall not be used on the public streets or sidewalks but upon lawns and grounds of public parks and grounds where permission has been given by owner or caretaker. Great care must be exercised as to dangers of fire. Dealers as well as purchasers will confer with the police department when in doubt as the safety department will keep a rigid lookout for willful offenders.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of the City of Lima.

FRANK A. BURKHARDT, Mayor.

MARKETMASTER MAY BE WEIGHT AND MEASURE SEALER FOR THIS CITY

The judiciary committee of the city council will consider the advisability of reestablishing the custom of the marketmaster receiving, from an inspector of weights and measures. This decision was reached following a report of Mayor Burkhardt that numerous firms in the city had asked to have scales and measures tested.

On a recommendation of the service director and market master, the question of allowing one person to lease more than one stall in the market house was referred to the public buildings and grounds committee. There are a number of empty stalls the marketmaster told council, and many of the present occupants will not return when their lease expires unless they may lease more than one stall.

Council Accepts Recommendation of Expert on O. E. Property

City Council took action on a recommendation of W. H. Curry, electrical expert, who has been acting as adviser to the citizens' committee Monday night by employing Benham Thomas & Co., of Columbus, to appraise the O. E. property.

Curry advised in response to a request from council for recommendation as to the method of appraising the property, that a reputable engineering firm be employed and that the method of doing the work be decided after. After City Solicitor Garling told the council of Curry's recommendation a ten minute recess was granted and when they returned a motion by Councilman Jones that Benham Thomas & Co., be employed at a per diem rate of $33 for each engineer, was carried. The motion was amended however to read that a written contract must be presented at the next meeting of council for acceptance or rejection.

RETAINING WALL BONDS UP AT AUGUST PRIMARY

Two hundred thousand dollars worth of bonds for the construction of retaining walls in the Ottawa river will be voted upon at the August primaries. Council voted Monday night to have the city solicitor prepare the necessary legislation, after the matter had been carefully considered since the last meeting night.

A communication from the Lima chamber of commerce was read, which council was advised the chamber had appointed a special committee to conduct an educational campaign for the bonds.

Thin People Should Take Phosphate

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Muscle Power.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft, curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who really feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by M. M. Kuhnert and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance, the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should soon disappear, dull eyes brighten and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION:—While Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

END OF EIGHT YEARS MISERY

Used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Recovered.

Newark, N. J.—"The doctor said I had an organic trouble and treated me for several weeks. At times I could not walk at all and I suffered with my back and limbs so I often had to stay in bed. I suffered off and on for eight years. Finally I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was a good medicine and tried it with splendid effect. I can now do my housework and my washing. I have recommended your vegetable Compound and your Blood Medicine and three of my friends are taking them to advantage. You can use my name for a testimonial."

MAKE UP YOUR MIND—RIGHT

WHEN the voters of Lima go to the polls in August, the day of the primary, they will be asked to vote on a bond issue that has been twice defeated—defeated not because a majority was against it, but because two-thirds were not for it. That issue is for completion of the river improvement, principally the erection of a retaining wall to prevent the work already done from going for naught and to protect property along the stream.

When the city bought the ground for the river improvement it signed a contract, agreed to build this wall in order that the adjoining property would not crumble away and fall into the channel below. One damage suit now faces the city, that where a residence is twisting and sinking to such an extent that the doors will not open and close. There are scores of others which will suffer the same fate and in time drop into the river for at every freshet the banks will be gradually eaten away.

It is not a local proposition. The people are not voting the money for the benefit of the comparatively few property owners along the stream. The city has a moral obligation, incurred when it bought the land, and the city is every person within its borders. In the second place the city is responsible for all damage to property where the river was widened and if the wall is not built this damage will be heavy. The taxpayers of Lima will foot the bills for all damages and they will be readily granted in the courts for the city will have no defense.

The proposed bonds are not for a luxury. They are essential and it is necessary that they be voted. The city council could provide the money by taxation bonds, but that would hamper the general operations of the municipality since the principal and interest would have to be paid out of the operating expenses. If they are voted by the people they will come outside the money for operating and the city will not be the loser in the matter of service.

A two-thirds vote is necessary to carry this issue. Every man who has the interest of his city at heart cannot help but support it for the work already done on the river and that which will be done in the future will be of no avail unless this improvement is speedily completed.

The Otta river soon will cease to be the disagreeable thing of the past since the program on which the city is working now will remove all objections and it will become a very respectable waterway. The sewer system which has been started and which will end in the installation of a sewage disposal plant will bring this about and will remove the stench which has earned for the river the name, "Hawg Creek." With the widened channel and the sewage removed, the beautiful new bridges and the possibilities for beautifying the channel, everyone should cooperate to the fullest extent to carry on the work and the retaining wall now needed is one of the chief links.

LOAN YOUR LOTS

WITH the vacation season on, the desire for recreation seizes the small boys and one of their favorite pastimes is the great American game—baseball. Recently there have come to the mayor's office a number of complaints that boys are playing ball in the streets. It is a sad predicament if it is necessary for them to play in the streets for it is annoying to residents and dangerous for them because of the heavy traffic on Lima thoroughfares.

Playgrounds are provided, but it is admitted they are not adequate. Nothing pleases boys of any neighborhood so much as to have a place where they can play ball or other games whenever they choose to do so. There are a number of lots throughout the city which would make boys of various localities happy if they had the permission to play on them. It would be a good idea for the owners of every available lot to let it be known to the boys that the lots are theirs to use for games whenever they like, thus keeping them off the streets.

DO ANIMALS REASON?

THAT animals have the power of reason is indisputable after one has been around them much. Cats, horses and dogs show the greatest degree of intelligence. Cats especially.

Comes someone forward, however, with the yarn that animals deliberately commit suicide and he cites instances. He tells of a circus elephant, a female, who drowned herself because she was being annoyed by other elephants of the show.

One day when the elephants were jogging by the Hudson river, the jolly elephants in the tribe became particularly annoying to military elephant. She up and beat it hotfoot across a field and plunged into the Hudson, so the story goes, and never made an attempt to save herself. Perhaps, and yet—

It reminds of the deliberate suicide of the flea that insisted upon doing a butterfly waltz on the man's bald head.

Animals do reason, but it is pretty far-fetched to credit them with deliberate suicide. The very fact that they do reason is proof enough that they do not do anything like that. Animals are natural in their thoughts and actions.

It is not natural to commit suicide.

They leave that to foolish man.

YOUR HEELS

By Roger W. Dalson, World-Famous Statistician
IT'S FUNNY how seemingly little things in our surroundings affect our efficiency.

Whether you feel happy and successful, or down-and-out and a failure, may depend on so small a thing as the heel of a shoe.

I know a man who is a great philanthropist. He isn't so very rich, but he does more good with a few hundred dollars than many do with millions.

This is the way he goes about setting down-and-outers back on their feet at 50c per.

When he finds a poor unfortunate, he takes the man to the nearest cobbler's shop and has him new heels put on his shoes.

Then a few minutes later the down-and-outer is facing the world once more.

He is alone again, but his heels are square and he stands a little straighter.

He throws back his shoulders and sets his jaw, not knowing just why he does it, and strides off a better man.

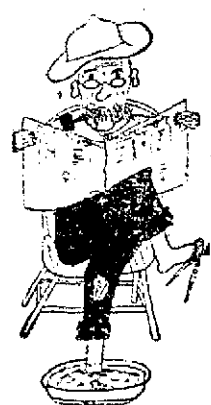

By straightening those heels, our friend has done more to help a drifter than if he had given him a hundred dollars.

It's the little things—our heels, our clothes, the picture in our houses, the condition of the tools we work with, and the expression worn by those we meet—that make our moods.

If you want to try an experiment along this line watch your wife the day she buys that new hat.

"Star." "Why not put these in a separate apartment, too, along with the specially trained servants she says she would employ to rear them. Just as she states the 'bloom is rubbed from romance' by the too constant association of husband and wife, the bloom is not so fresh on motherhood after a night spent listening to the wails of a colicky infant. And even specialists fail to prevent these occurrences sometimes, so Fannie had better see her children only upon rare occasions when they are guaranteed to be in a good humor, free from colic and other infantile ailments. Should there be more than one child, the temperament of one might jar upon the temperament of the other, thus necessitating each child having his own apartment. This, we think, would make an ideal family existence."

A FEW QUEER THINGS

A funny thing about a bell is that it doesn't bellow.
A funny thing about the yell is that it doesn't follow.
A funny thing about the dust is that it doesn't dust.
And when you add to these the last, it really doesn't last.

A man sold a lot of New York chorus girls take perfume at $4 a bottle. Getting so you can sell almost anything by the bottle these days.

The Elwell murder investigation is making headway. Already it has been discovered that his wife wrote him stuff and that some man shot him with a revolver.

It is now a crime to make home brew, but it is a greater crime to give some of it to a friend and expect him to drink it.

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

This is an unusually lucky day.
It is an excellent rule for those who are ambitious since the stars promise the realization of their hopes.

Writings of all sorts have the best possible augury today and writers will benefit financially.

Lawyers should achieve much fame under this rule.

JUDITH of BLUE LAKE RANCH

By JACKSON GREGORY

PARTNERS

From without came the low murmur of men's voices. Judith laid her book aside and drew her hair across her knees. Her eyes bright and eager. At frequent intervals for perhaps three or four minutes the two voices came faintly to those in the cabin. Then silence for as long as a time. And then a voice again, this time quite near the door, calling out clearly:

"Hey, you in there! Pitch the money out the window and we'll let you go."

"There's a voice," said Judith quietly. "To remember! I'll be able to swear to it in court."

Certainly a voice to remember, just as one remembers an unusual face for years, tho it be but a chance seen in a crowd. A voice peculiarly individual, not merely because it was somewhat high-pitched for a man's, but rather for a quality not easily defined, which gave to it a certain vibrant unpleasant harshness, sounding metallic almost, rasping, as the with the hiss of steel surfaces rubbing. Altogether impossible to describe adequately, yet, as Judith said, not to be forgotten.

Judith noticed a puzzled look on Bud Lee's face. He called out: "What did you say out there?"

Word for word came the command again: "Pitch the money out the window and we'll let you go."

Lee turned triumphantly to Judith.

"I've got his tag!" he whispered to her. "I played poker with that voice one night not four months ago in Rocky Bend!"

"With Crowdy down, if we know who one of these men is, the rest will be easy. Who is he?"

"A bad egg," Lee told her gravely. "He's done time in the State pen. He's been out less than a year. Gunman, stick-up man, convicted once already for manslaughter."

"Not Chris Quinnion, Bud Lee?" she cried excitedly. "Not Chris Quinnion?"

"Sh!" he commanded softly. "There's no use tipping our hand off to him. Yes; it's Crooked Chris Quinnion. You don't know him, do you?"

He had never seen her eyes look as they looked now. They were so hard and bright as steel; no true woman's eyes, he thought swiftly. Rather the eyes of a man with murder in his heart.

"Then, thank God!" whispered Judith, her voice tense. "You keep secret with me, Bud Lee? Were it not for the man calling to us now, Luke Sanford would be here in our stead. Crooked Chris Quinnion served his time in San Quentin because my father sent him there. And he had not been free six months before he kept his oath and murdered my poor old Dad!"

"Give us five minutes to think it over," returned Lee coolly. And, incredulous eyes on Judith's set face, he said gently: "I was on the ranch when the accident happened. He must have driven that heavy car a little too close to the edge of the grade. The bank just naturally gave away."

Judith, her lips tightly compressed, shook her head.

"You didn't find him under the car, did you? And the blow that killed him might have been dealt with some heavy weapon in the hands of a man standing behind him, mightn't it? I know, Bud Lee, I know!"

"How do you know?" he demanded insistently. "You weren't here even."

"No, I was in San Francisco. But the day before I had a letter from father. He expected me home very soon. He was going out. He said the grade was dangerous, especially that the grade was dangerous, especially at the very place where the car went over. He wanted me to know so that in case he could not get the work done on it before I came, I would be careful. On top of that would he go and run his car into such danger as that? Oh, I know!"

She cried again, her hands hard upon her rifle. "I know, I tell you! From the first I suspected. I knew that Chris Quinnion had threatened a dozen times to 'get' father. I knew that sooner or later he would try. I wrote Emmet Sawyer, our county sheriff, and told him what I believed, and asked him to go to the spot and see what signs told. A square man is Emmet Sawyer and as sharp as a tack."

"And he told you that you were mistaken?"

"He did nothing of the kind! He reported that the tracks of the car stopped there, that again it had gone on, swerving so as to run close to the edge! I know what happened: Father got out to look at the dangerous spot and to put up the sign he had brot with him and that was found in the road. Chris Quinnion had followed him, perhaps to shoot him down from behind. Chris Quinnion's way! Then he saw a safer way. He came up behind poor old dad and struck him in the head with something, a rifle-barrel or revolver. He started the car up and let it run over the bank. He—"

She broke off then. Bud Lee felt that he knew what she would say if she could bring herself to go on; that she would tell how crooked Chris Quinnion had thrown the unconscious man down over the bank to lie, bruised and broken, by the wrecked car.

"You've got to be almighty sure to force you make a charge like that," he reminded her. "If Quinnion had done it, why didn't Emmet Sawyer get the dead wood on him?"

"Because," she whispered quickly, "a man fooled Sawyer! Yes, and fooled me! Quinnion established an alibi. A man whose word there was no reason to doubt said that Quinnion was with him at the time of the murder. And that man was—Bayne Trevor!"

"Trevor?" muttered Lee. He shook his head. "Trevor's a hard man, Judith. And he's a scoundrel. If you want to know, I'll frame up a murder deal—plan to murder Luke Sanford—No, I don't believe it!"

"Is he the man to miss a chance that lay at his hand? The main chance for him? The chance to hold a man like Chris Quinnion in the hollow of his hand, to make him do his bidding, to set him just such work as he is doing now? Answer me! Is Bayne Trevor above a deal like that?"

Bud Lee's answer was silence.

"And that is one thing," went on Judith swiftly. "Known to no one but Emmet Sawyer, whom I told, and me and Chris Quinnion. In father's letter he told me that a man had paid him some money the day before, and that he was going to drive to Rocky Bend to bank it. There are some tough customers in the country," he wrote, "and it's foolhardy to have too much money in our old safe. That money, several hundred dollars, was never banked. It was found on his body. Where did it go?"

"Even that doesn't incriminate Quinnion, you know?"

"No. The rest is pure guesswork on my part. Guesswork is based on what I know. Not enough to hang

"I did nothing of the kind! He reported that the tracks of the car stopped there, that again it had gone on, swerving so as to run close to the edge! "And that is one thing," went on Judith swiftly. "Known to no one but Emmet Sawyer, whom I told, and me and Chris Quinnion. In father's letter he told me that a man had paid him some money the day before, and that he was going to drive to Rocky Bend to bank it. There are some tough customers in the country," he wrote, "and it's foolhardy to have too much money in our old safe. That money, several hundred dollars, was never banked. It was found on his body. Where did it go?"

"Even that doesn't incriminate Quinnion, you know?"

"No. The rest is pure guesswork on my part. Guesswork is based on what I know. Not enough to hang Chris Quinnion, Bud Lee. But enough to make me sure. He's working at Trevor's game right now. If we can prove that it is Trevor's game, it will go to show how worthless his alibi was."

"Well?" called Quinnion, the third time. "What about it? We ain't goin' to wait all night!"

"Tell him," whispered Judith, her hand on Lee's arm. "To come and get it if he wants it! One of us can hold the cabin against the two of them while the other slips out in the dark and rides back to the ranch-house for help. If we're in luck, Bud Lee, we'll corner the bunch of them before daylight!"

Lee stood a moment looking down into her face, his mind filled with uncertainties. With all his soul he wished that Judith had not come with him tonight, that he had only himself to think of now. Quinnion, not to be further put off, called again, the snarl of his voice rising into ugly threat. Still Lee, thinking of Judith, hesitated.

"It's the only way," she insisted. "If we gave them the money they'd want Bill Crowdy next. If they got Crowdy away with them into the mountains I am sure that they could not hide until they got him safe: in Chris Quinnion, Bud Lee. But enough to make me sure. He's working at Trevor's game right now. If we can prove that it is Trevor's game, it will go to show how worthless his alibi was."

YOUNG PATRIOTS HAVE CHANCE

Mayor Upheld in Modifying Lima Fireworks Ordinance

As a result of action of the city council Monday night in sustaining Mayor Frank A. Burkhardt in his decision regarding the celebration of the fourth of July, Lima is to have a "safe and sane" fourth, without curbing young America in an expression of patriotism.

The council voted unanimously that an obsolete ordinance prohibiting fireworks except under supervision for public entertainment should be discarded and that the mayor should issue a proclamation in which the limitations of the use of fireworks will be pointed out.

"I feel certain that if the boys of the city should vote on whether they were to be given a few harmless firecrackers for their own use or go to a park and see a pyrotechnic display costing several thousand dollars they would take the firecrackers," said Councilman Reed in discussing the question. Other councilmen who expressed themselves concurred with Reed.

The celebration this year, according to Mayor Burkhardt will be outlined in his proclamation and will be practically the same manner in which it was celebrated last year. The fire menace will be closely guarded, he said in an attempt to have the fourth pass without an accident of any description.

The new U.S. Grainless Rubber solid truck tire

THE inventor of the air brake spent years in getting the people who needed it most to accept it.

Motor transportation, developing so much faster than the railroads ever developed, has set the truck owner thinking in advance of progress.

When the United States Rubber Company announced the creation of a solid truck tire that ended splitting and base separation, it found the truck owners of the country ready for it.

Their interest in better tires is the interest of a sick man in health.

The new U. S. Grainless Rubber Tire cannot split.

Cut it and the cut stops where it starts.

It wears down uniformly throughout the life of the tire.

Working always towards better tires, the United States Rubber Company overcame base separation by effecting a chemical union between the steel and the rubber—the first time such a thing had ever been done.

Just as the first time any radical change was ever made in passenger car tire designing was when the United States Rubber Company introduced the straight side automobile tire.

It is not enough to create better tires. They must be accompanied by better tire service.

The U. S. Solid Truck Tire dealers were selected for what they know about tires—how well they are able to serve the user—and not for any particular cleverness in sales talk.

Go to them, put your truck tire problem in their hands, get their advice about the type of tire best able to meet your own trucking conditions.

As representatives of the oldest and largest rubber organization in the world, they are in constant touch with the latest tire developments.

Safe and Sane Camera Hunting in the Canadian Pacific Rockies

You start on a stroll of a summer afternoon from any of the hotels or chalets in the Canadian Pacific Rockies—and ten minutes later you may pick up deer tracks.

Deer tracks! You fix your camera. You hurry quietly through the pine trees and wish you were an Indian. All of a sudden you see him—no, you see three of them—Mr. Deer, with horns, Mrs. Deer, without horns, and little Fawn Deer, with Chipmunk legs.

Rain, in the heart of the Rocky Mountain Park of Canada, is the home of deer, elk, moose, buffalo, bear, mountain sheep, mountain goat, and all big game native to the Canadian Pacific Rockies—and those that you do not meet on the trail you can hunt with a camera in the zoological gardens. Lake Louise, Emerald Lake, the Yoho Valley and Glacier are also excellent hunting grounds for the camera—and so easy to reach.

At Night, At Night, At Night!

Most good people clean their teeth in the morning. Something seems to remind them to do it.

Morning is a good time to clean the teeth, but the important time is at night, just before going to bed.

We are a little afraid that users of Pebeo Tooth Paste may rely too much on the refreshing, wholesome feeling that Pebeo leaves in the mouth in the morning and forget the night brushing.

Pebeo leaves the mouth feeling fresh and clean. It feels that way all day. But over the years it's the night use that saves the teeth.

Use Pebeo in the morning for your mouth's sake. Use it again at night for your teeth's sake.

A NEW ARRANGEMENT

"What is it, Mrs. Meredith? Are you coming back to me?" Madam asked when once we were in her private office and the door closed. It had been difficult getting past the girls they all wanted to stop me. But I told them I'd see them after I had talked with Madame. Their curious looks, and the stage whispers they threw after me showed how deeply they were interested.

"That depends, Madame Leets." "On what? Haven't I always treated you fairly?"

"Very—perhaps you have been more than fair. But when I consider my house over a year—there was need to tell her I had also been running hats—and I cannot give it up, would not give it up for any salary, no matter how large. But I am not quite contented to be idle. Then living is so high, that a plan Mr. Meredith and I have in mind will materialize much more quickly if I work. But I cannot stay in any shop more hours. I came to you first, as a girl. But unless you want me for only certain hours daily, I shall have to look elsewhere."

"Will you tell me your reasons?" "I have already partly told you. I shall not give up keeping house." I then explained how very nearly I had lost Robert, mentioning no names, also how he had practically lost all ambition and was losing his grip on business entirely.

"I don't understand. Why should he object to your earning money?" "I didn't understand either for a long, long time. But if you could see the difference a happy home of my own has made in my husband you would appreciate that he never would have been happy had I not made this home for him. Perhaps men are all like that." I went on, "They want a home. My friends' hands all do. And I think a man needs a home, a comfortable, a smiling man thinks more of his home than wealthier men do. They go to clubs, etc." I blushed and apologized for running on at such a rate.

"I have been much interested, all that seems rather a selfish view for a man to take of it. Now tell me what you had in mind." "I am perfectly willing to give you the very best there is in me from 10 in the morning until 4:30 in the afternoon." "I had figured that I might be an hour more in the morning and a half hour in the afternoon as I could not be running from place to place as I had been."

"What salary do you want?" "What are you willing to give me?" "Those hours? And Madame, I shall try to make up in my work for my winter hours." "I will give you $30—and glad to see I hope you won't leave me soon."

"I went out to talk to the girls sitting on the sidewalk. I had not expected quite so much. I would have been glad to have a moment or two with each of the girls I knew, then hurried home. Those of my customers who still remained must be told that I could visit them no longer, and would come to me at Madame Leets' house. Then I had not yet decided what to do about telling Robert. I had already proved to him that a woman could earn money and still neglect her home or her husband. But now I had to show him that a woman could take a permanent position.

LOVE AND MARRIED LIFE

BY IDAH MCCLONE GIBSON

I TELL JOHN ABOUT KARL

"Oh, John please don't let's be so quarrel over money. You did me the other day that you were making so much in your life, please you are quibbling over and being about $25 a week which I am to give to an expert to care for my child."

"John had the grace to look rather shyly at this." "Will you know, Katherine," he said, "I haven't told you that I have something in stocks a good deal and I haven't had the best of it. Until I recoup we will have a little slow."

"John, we never will recoup as long as you play the stock market. I know I rather imagined that you were doing that very thing. But in with the other fellow, no has played it all his life? You are dear, I am talking in your ear, for I want you to look on my advice as though given by a friend and not by a woman or my wife. Perhaps then you will heed it."

"Now look here, Katherine. I told you that I was going to stop, but I want it distinctly understood that I am not going to stop so far that I shall allow a to run my business for me. I will lose more than I can afford the stock market."

"BEING PETTY ECONOMIES" "What right have you to ask me to be forever practicing petty economies, for if you do shows me that you are losing more than I can afford."

"You can afford. What do you mean just this, John, that as I know that you are playing the stock market and taking money out of the legitimate money to gamble—for that is all I shall have everything to be myself comfortable and shall have many of my luxurious desires?"

"Good Lord Katherine. When I say such things as these I want to say you." As he said this he began to get more angry, and I, in my anger, became perfectly out of my mind.

"Well, why don't you then," I said. "H. H. you know that I would go as far as that." "There are worse things in this world."

"But Katherine, why aren't you any. Even if you do think I am wrong in this, why aren't you diplomatic?" "Simply because I just can't be critical. If I could be I would be saying, 'Oh you poor man so sorry you made these mistakes. I will be just as economical as I can and help you make it all the while, John, in my mind I would be seething and fuming at your selfishness.'"

a companion for her husband. We tried it without the housekeeping. Gerry, and even then it didn't work. You were tired to death all the time, and so bound up in your work you could talk of nothing but hats. I had no companionship at all."

"I might have reminded him that now he talked shop that I scarcely ever spoke of my work. But I didn't. Living was soaring. It wasn't fair, aside from anything else, for me to sit idle a great share of the time, while he strained every nerve to meet the increased cost."

"Finally I decided not to tell him for one month—to try it out before I said anything. I made Jane and Betty promise not to mention it. Then I took my old place in the shop. Tomorrow—Telling Robert"

DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

By PHYLIS PHILLIPS

CECIL'S PLAN

I did not die, neither did I need to run away alone from Aunt Patricia's. The funniest thing possible happened, as I was sitting dejectedly in the library at about eight o'clock last evening. Cecil called me up and told me to try to stand one night at the Bullard family, and that he would call on me in a few minutes.

I explained to Aunt Patricia that I had a friend coming to call on me, and she was somewhat icy, the smiles played about her thin lips. That's why I dislike her most, because of the perpetual thin smiles—on thinner lips. Ugh! They are so horribly forced and false.

When she saw that my caller was the same man who had been in the taxi with me at the station earlier in the evening, she lifted one eyebrow, as she welcomed him with a cold hand. Cecil was politeness itself, in spite of the freeze-out, but then he is an Englishman and I must say that they are all well-bred in spite of all and any adversity.

As soon as we found ourselves alone, which was not for one hour nearly, for Julia buzzed around as well as Aunt Patricia, until I thought that I should pass out with irritation. Cecil announced that he had had a brilliant idea as soon as I had left him, and he had wired to dad (to his office) begging him to come and get his Lindsey no matter what and signing my name to said wire! I must say that it was an inspiration on his part, for I know my dad well enough to realize that my hours in this house are numbered. You see, the Bullards are relatives on my mother's side—nuff said. Also, dad knows just what my life would be here. God bless Cecil for rescuing me from the long arm of Tradition! And to think that I refused him! Lips—once. I fairly threw myself into his arms when he told me what he had done, and then I cried, and cried.

There's something exquisite about crying on his chest!

He brushed my hair back from my brow and kissed me again on the lips. This time I did not resist.

Would you believe that all evening long Aunt Patricia or Julia came flitting in or by us on one pretext or another in the most maddening way in the world. My fingers fairly tried to box both of their inquisitive ears—but once a lady always a lady, as the saying goes.

Poor old Cecil, he is certainly seeing family life as she is lived in America, with a vengeance. He says it's a liberal education. I'll say it is, as long as you are not the one who is being educated. Just wait till my dad gets here. I'm going to tell him all that's been on my heart for ages, positively. I shall burst.

There's One President In This Country Who Knows How to Go After the Reds

REDS STAGE RALLY FOR WIN IN FOURTH

BY JOE BERNSTEIN

IN THE FACE OF a dark outlook and despite pessimistic comment from every corner of the sporting world, the Reds are fighting like demons to hold their title to the baseball championship.

Manager Moran's crew just won't allow more than three successive games to get past them. It's usual that in the fourth they stage a comeback, just strenuous enough to give them a hold on the top notch position. They did it Monday afternoon after the St. Louis Cardinals had taken three games from them in a row. The fourth of the series proved the comeback and the Reds took the honors.

Whether or not the Champs can keep up such kind of play until the end of the season is a mystery. Their hold on first since the initial battle of the season has been a fighting one. It's a matter of life and death for the team and the players certainly are bidding heavily for their lives.

Sam Sallee worked in the box for Cincinnati yesterday, and although hitting on the part of the Cardinals registered many a safe bingle against him, he, following his usual procedure kept them scattered through the nine innings of play sufficiently to allow the St. Louis team to score only in the ninth.

On the contrary, the Reds, teeming over with revenge, chased two pitchers to the showers and were hitting the third pretty heavily when the ninth innings were finally over.

It may have been the heavy fines imposed upon the Champs because of their riotous conduct in the doubleheader Saturday that made them fight so mad Monday, but whatever it was, they came back like demons to the win.

Luque, the Cincinnati pitcher who assaulted Umpire Klem during one of Saturday's games has been fined $100 while Catcher Wingo has been indefinitely suspended. It makes things look bad for the Reds and justifies absolutely President Hermann's conference with Manager Moran Monday. They got together to discuss means of keeping the Redland players' tempers down.

COMMISSION POSTPONES MEET TO TONIGHT

The Lima Boxing commission failed to get together Monday night for their scheduled meeting to decide upon the Legion's next boxing card to be presented here.

Some of the members who were out of the city were unable to be present.

However, another attempt to get the commission together and make final arrangements for the coming card will be made tonight.

Don Baxter, the Lima lad who is scheduled for the headliner with Frankie Mason, American flyweight champion, is working hard in preparation for his coming scrap.

WATCHA GONNA DO GEORGES?

Now we hear talk that the famous, had for the Frenchman. No other conclusion can be drawn than that he is afraid to remain here because of Jack Dempsey. It unquestionably looks like he absolutely scared to go into the ring with the American champ.

If he doesn't it's a pure acknowledgment of the fact that he concedes the American to be a better man than himself.

Just what Carpenter intends to do, nobody knows. He has answered, reports say Dempsey's challenge to a bout in the affirmative—but he has given no satisfaction as to time for it.

Instead, he came out at almost the same time with an announcement that he was going home. What are you going to do Georges?

FINES FOR ALL OF 'EM

NEW YORK — Umpire Bill Klem was fined $100 by President Heydler of the National League Monday afternoon, upon charges that he used offensive language against Pitcher Luque of the Cincinnati Reds, in a game last Saturday in Cincinnati. Luque, who assaulted Klem after the alleged remarks of the umpire, was also fined $100, and Catcher Wingo of the Reds was indefinitely suspended for protesting a decision in the same game.

Pitcher Luque and Catcher Allen made affidavits that Klem had used offensive language against the Red pitcher.

CINCINNATI — Admitting the charge that they threw pop bottles at Umpire William Klem during the Cincinnati-St. Louis National League baseball game here Saturday, Joachim Renszhausen and Fred Reese, two fans, were fined $25 and costs each in police court Monday.

MYSTERY IN RELEASE

Just why Zeb Terry was permitted to get away from the Pirates is rather mysterious in view of the excellent work the veteran has done around the leviathan since his acquisition with the Cubs.

Terry has been in the same for a long time and has played on many teams yet right now he is about as clever a holding second baseman as there is in the National League.

He covers a wide range of territory and is death on hard hit ground balls while his throwing is exceptionally good. He isn't a terrific hitter, but he fits well into a team that has some hard hitters in its lineup. Perhaps he won't win many games for the Cubs with his stick work, but he'll save a lot of them with his fielding.

HEARTLESS GIRL IS PUNISHED

Suffers Same Fate She Forces On Another—in Movie

"SEX" IS GOOD TRADE PLAY

Coming to Lima Soon—Theater Notes and Gossip

BY ESTHER WAGNER

THE title is the most sensational thing about the movie "Sex".

The idea in it is eminently moral. But one can't say so much for the truth of these ideas. For the story seems to say that immediate retribution is the portion of sinners which notion is supposed to be most satisfying to the righteous.

In the beginning a certain woman's husband neglects her to run a stage dancer. The wife pleads with the dancer to give him up but the dancer is unmoved.

For that the dancer is punished that when she marries another man, and becomes a home body, her husband runs after another dancer and the original situation is reversed.

In the end the first woman's husband comes back to her. But the dancer loses her husband for good. The wages of sin are told, is a lonely and remorseful.

The fable is told as a lesson to chorus girls, who are warned not to go to parties with young men for the sake of a bad end.

The whole thing rests on the ancient idea that the stage is a wicked place and full of pitfalls.

The movie is elaborate. But it is not among the few best movies. It belongs among the many which are more or less valuable trade goods but have little artistic merit.

Two of the chief roles in the movie are played by Louise Glaum and Myrtle Stedman.

The picture will be shown in Lima soon.

Here's Tom Moore in the kind of a part you love to see him play—a regular American boy, with all the faults and irregularities that regular boys are apt to have. NEW YORK — Trading at the close of Tuesday's stock market indicated a continuation of recent easy, dull and featureless session. The exception of Consolidated, which gained 1-4 points on a favorable legal decision and further advance of 1-2 points in Barrett, and declines, the latter prominent, were limited to fluctuations of a few points. A few funds from local banks today and tomorrow to meet payments is expected to add to the firmer money tendency. Almost every essential market followed its monotonous course of the previous day. Special issues, particularly oils, chemicals and metals were again subjected to pressure with motors and shippings. Middle States Petroleum, American and United Fruit, and two points, Delaware and Consolidated, were conspicuous among declines. A number of stocks to show even slight gains were Vanadium, and Famous Players. Call money advanced 9 per cent and rates on government bonds virtually unchanged.

Missed His Chance

There is the fellow who missed the opportunity to make a good investment because he didn't have the money to invest.

And the other fellow who has not enough to keep his bills paid, when sickness comes or work is slack.

Both men have been accustomed to good wages but neglected placing part of their earnings in a savings account.

Keep out of their class. Be with those who regularly deposit a portion of their income in The Allen County Savings and Loan Company at five per cent interest. Savings building, corner Market and Elizabeth streets.

Deep in a ponderous calculation the professor leaned over his desk. One hand held his massive brow; the other guided his pencil. Suddenly the library door was flung open, and a nurse entered, smiling broadly.

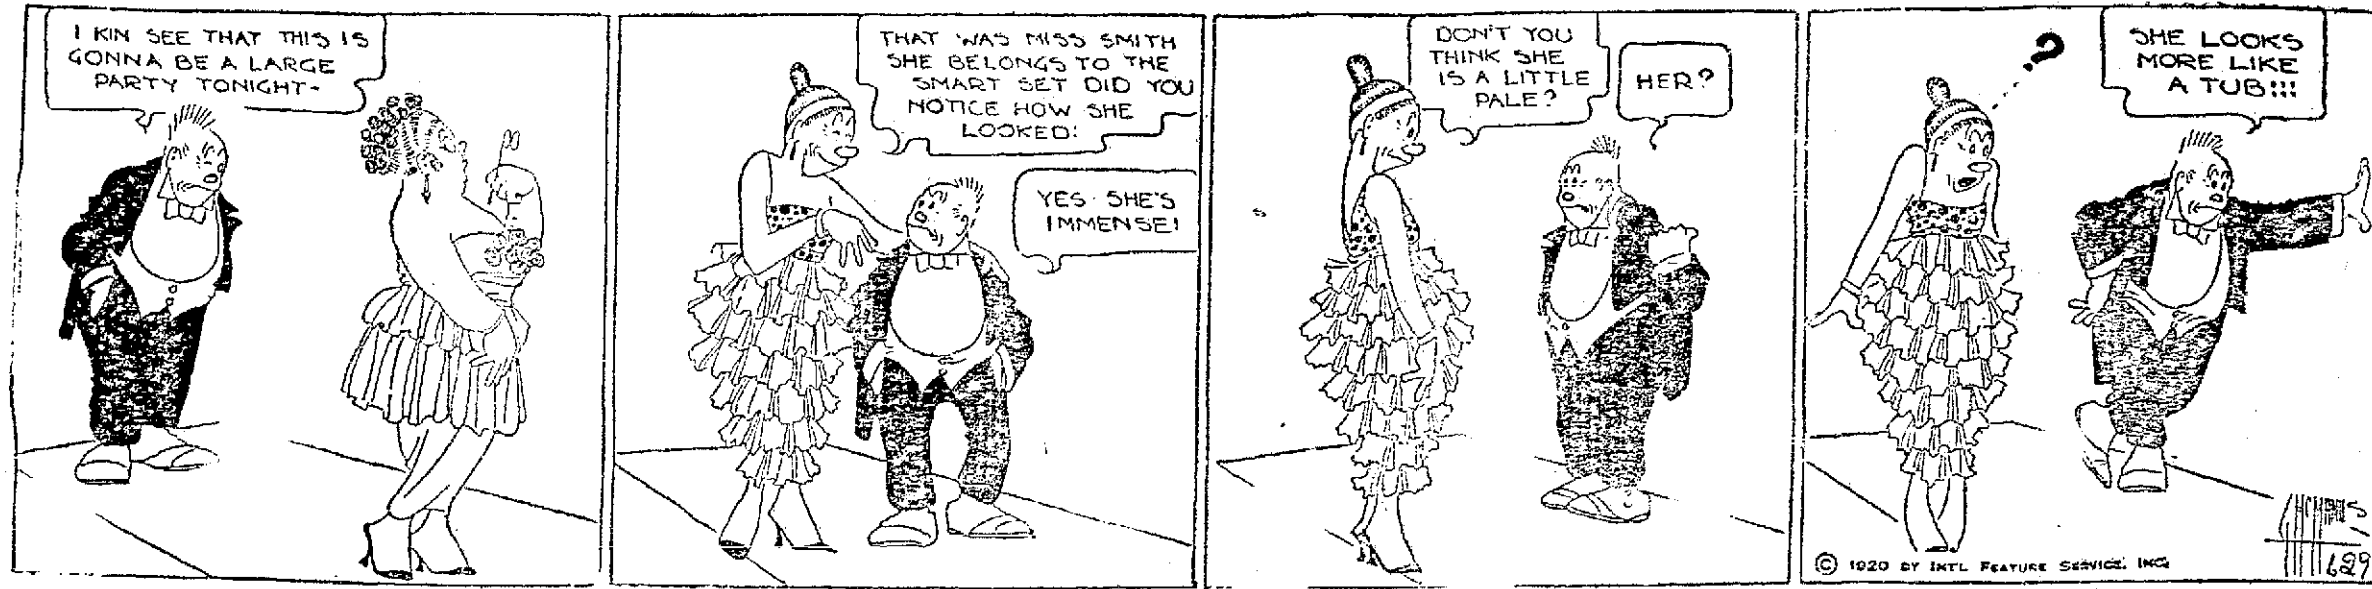

"There's a little stranger upstairs, professor," she announced, of course referring to the very latest arrival. "Eh?" grunted the man of learning, poring deeply over his problem. "It's a little boy," remarked the nurse, still smiling. "A little boy," mused the professor. Little boy—eh? Well, ask him what he wants!"

drifted to old friends back in the old home town. "Whatever became of So-and-So?" one friend asked the hunter. "Oh, hadn't you heard? He's in jail." He is a big game hunter, and "You don't tell me!"

"Yep, I went down to the jail to see him the other day." "That was a friendly thing to do. What did you talk about?" "Oh, outdoor life!"

"Just One" Does It Every Time!

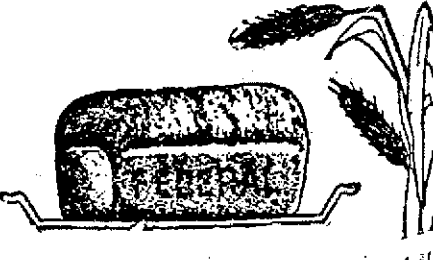

Only Laxative Tablets That Keep On Getting Action and Never Wear Out.

The new idea in laxatives. Twenty tablets in each box, all alike in appearance but entirely different in ingredients. Each tablet a full correct dose of a laxative different from any of the other nineteen.

Getting a Lot of Action. You can't take the same laxative twice in succession from a box of "Just One," because there's only one of each kind. You can't keep on taking a single organ and neglecting the others as you do with ordinary laxatives. With just one tablet, you get action through stimulation of the liver, next time through the pancreas, next the lower bowels and so on throughout the twenty. That's why their effectiveness never wears out—because you change laxatives with every dose.

It's plain common-sense. So get a box of "Just One" today. Any druggist anywhere can get "Just One" for you or we will send it postpaid upon receipt of 25c per box. Manufactured by Perittone Chemical Co., Council Bluffs, Iowa.
